W. P. WALTON.

HUSTONVILLE, LINCOLN COUNTY.

—FOR SALE OR RENT.—A desirable farm containing about 110 acres, all in cultivation, situated on the Hustonville and Liberty turnpike road, joining the limits of the former place, which will offer to the highest bidder on Tuesday, the 1st day of September, 1885, between the hours of 10 and 12 on the premises. If we do not sell said farm we will rent to the highest and best bidder. For particulars call on John Ellis, at Hustonville. Terms made known on day of sale. We will also offer at the same time and place, two brood mares and two two-year-old mules. John Ellis, National Cooper, Mary M. Ellis. (49-3t)

DEGENERATE SON OF STATESMEN.—Any one who attends the President's reception is struck by the physical contrast between the prominent statesmen of the day and their hopeful sons. It is well known that all the United States Senators, with three exceptions, and nearly all able men in the House of Representatives are above the average height and of very ample proportions. They are self-made men, and required all the vitality of their large frames to take themselves in the world. They are an honor to the White House, and lend dignity to its receptions. But what a pitiful lot are their wretched little duds of sons, with their spindle legs, dwarfed frames, sunken chests and colorless faces—ambitious, dissipated, worthless, without even a manly vice. There are some marked exceptions, but the average society young man as seen at the White House is anything but an object of admiration. It is a common sight to see a handsome, stately girl with one of these little objects trotting across the room at her side, scarcely reaching her shoulders. That women don't admire the puny things is proved by the rarity of marriage in Washington society, except in army and navy circles, where the young men are more manly in form and character. —[Washington Letter to the Philadelphia Times.]

ABOUT WIDOWS.—I have a vague idea that a widow, to be natural, should always be plump. I can't give my reason for it. I have long had a conviction that grief over a departed husband is fattening. I know that stage widows are always waxy and pale and faint at the sight of any relic of the deceased. But this is a dramatic license, and only in comedies where true love and devotion are made funny, not to say ridiculous, do they make widows plump. Come to think of it I don't see why a widow shouldn't be plump. She has nothing to worry about. She is heroine of one great battle, with a weakened world before her to conquer. I like widows. It always seems to me that a widow is a woman who has got the best of a man. He may have been a good deal of a man or a very little of a man, but she's got the best of him. It seems to be awfully hard for a woman to survive her husband. I do not wish to ask whether matrimony is after all a disease that is fatal to woman. I don't say that a woman should never marry again. She should always marry some other man. —[San Francisco Chronicle]

BILL NYE ON HIS BIRTHPLACE.—A man ought not to criticize his birthplace, I presume, and yet, if I were to do it all over again, I do not know whether I would select that particular spot or not. Sometimes I think I would not. And yet, what memories cluster about that old house! There was the place where I first met my parents. It was at that time that an acquaintance sprung up which has ripened in later years into mutual respect and esteem. It was there that what might be termed a casual meeting took place, that has, under the alchemy of restless years, turned to golden links, forming a pleasant but powerful bond of union between my parents and myself. For that reason I hope that I may be spared to my parents for many years to come.

There on that spot, with no inheritance but a predisposition to premature baldness and a bitter hatred to rum; with no personal property but a mild suspender and a stone bruise, began a life history which has never ceased to be a warning to people who sell groceries on credit. —[Boston Globe]

Fred Ashford, an Alabama burglar, was sentenced to hard labor for five years. He has served that term and is also five years on his parole. He has nearly two years more before his debt on account of his trial expenses are paid. He is paying at the rate of five cents per day. "If any device or plan more devilish in its conception or more wicked in its execution could be concocted by the ingenuity of man to oppress his fellow man," say the Prison Inspectors, "we would be glad to be advised of it. The idea of imprisoning a man in this age for seven years to pay a debt of something over $100 at five cents per day is abhorrent."

Happiness is defined by Madame de Staël to be "a state of constant occupation upon some desirable object, with a continual sense of progress toward its attainment."

GARRARD COUNTY DEPARTMENT.

Lancaster.

—The sick folks around town are reported better this week.

—Mr. J. G. Sweeney is building a comfortable brick office in the rear of his store. —The cold wave proved to be too much of a good thing. There being no stores except in the bar rooms those resorts became at once wonderfully popular.

—Hon. W. C. Owens, the brilliant Scott county representative, was here Wednesday urging his claims for the speakership. No man in the next house is better fitted than Mr. Owens to occupy the position.

—Major James A. Burnside complains that the court ruins his business. The coons in his employ are either witnesses or parties in trivial Commonwealth cases, and spend the entire court hanging around the Court-House. In the meantime the worms get away with his tobacco crop.

—The wife of Lillburn Gooch, who lives near Gilbert's Creek, presented her husband an eight pound boy at 2 o'clock in the afternoon of last Sunday. The next day at the same hour she gave him another boy, weight 7½ pounds. No further developments. Mother and kids doing well. Dr. Wm. Huffman attending physician.

—About People.—John E. Storms has gone to Rockcastle Springs. Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Walton, of Mason county, are visiting their children here. S. A. Walton and Mrs. B. M. Burdett. Col. Thos. S. Bronson was here Wednesday closing his accounts with the National Bank. The U. S. deposits will be transferred to Richmond. Mr. O. H. Waddle, of Somerset, was here Monday feeling how the public pulse beats in his race for Commonwealth's Attorney. He is a pleasant gentleman, a good lawyer and would make an efficient officer if chosen by the people.

—COURT NOTES.—Very little business has been done since J. L. Kindred was fined $50 for keeping a tippling house. Curt Shumpton and John Pollard got $25 and 10 days each for carrying a chunk of a pistol. Wm. Baker for malicious cutting got off with a $50 fine. At the last term he was sentenced to the penitentiary for 2 years but Judge Denny with the help of the Court of Appeals, pulled him out of that hole and he got a new trial, with the light fine mentioned above. Henderson Green, a pistol-bearer from Paint Lick, was found guilty in three cases, with fines aggregating $85 and 30 days in jail charged against him. Visiting attorneys: Col. T. P. Hill, R. P. Jacobs, Col. W. G. Welch, John S. Van Winkle, W. O. Goodloe.

SELLS BROS.' BIG SHOW.

The Biggest of All Big Shows.

A show so immense as to surprise the oldest showmen in the country and to completely eclipse any and all shows ever before seen. A show with innumerable special features, any one of which is a whole show in itself. A show with the only pair of blood-sweating hippopotami living in captivity on earth; a show with the only two-horned rhinoceros on earth; a show with the only coal-black African tiger ever be-held; a show with a thousand other features never before seen. The only great quadruple circus, each ring a circus in itself; a show with fully 200 all-star artists giving six simultaneous acts in four great circus rings; a show with Don Jeronimo Bell, the world's champion bareback rider, whose salary is greater than that of the President of the United States; a show with twenty champion riders, headed by the gallant "Don"; a show unsurpassed, unequaled, anywhere on earth. It will surely exhibit at Stanford on Wednesday, September 2, in all its greatness, in all its vastness, in all its mighty proportions, added to immensity, shorn of nothing, the greatest and the best on earth.

The Russellville Herald Enterprise, whose editor was married a fortnight ago, says: "Women are just too lovely in newly-laundered lawn dresses. When fresh from the close communication with toilet soap and crystal water, she has the ripe peach fragrance of paradise. When a fellow passes to the windward of a lovely woman who is filling the air with sweeties and purity as she gracefully trips along, he delicately sniffs the air as if he had got a snatch of heavenly perfume. God bless the women — if there were none on earth bald-headed men would be scarce."

A Boston Courier reporter asked the Superintendent of Schools the other day: "How does it happen that there are so many old maids among the school teachers?" and he replied: "Because school teachers are as a rule, women of sense, and no sensible woman will give up a sixty-dollar position for a forty-dollar man."

The same old thing has happened again — this time in Washington. Man went to a newspaper office to thrash the editor, but the programme got mixed and he got a thrashing himself, with compound interest added. Thrashing the editor is a contract that should always be abided.

A Washington man refused $25,000 for a cow, and last week the cow died. She couldn't stand the thought that she belonged to a man who had so little sense. —[Merchant Traveler]

Three weeks ago a man was sentenced at York, England, to three months imprisonment for manslaughter. He had previously done seven years' penal servitude for stealing a shirt.

DANVILLE, BOYLE COUNTY.

—The hemp crop in Boyle county this year is very fine.

—The Danville base ball club will play at Somerset Friday and Saturday.

—Twenty nine shares of Boyle National Bank stock are to be sold Saturday by T. D. English, Auctioneer.

—Rev. J. C. Randolph will preach at Mt. Xenia church on the Danville and Stanford pike next Sunday.

—Nearly all the resident Catholics and many of their friends and well wishers attended the picnic at Junction City to-day. —Mr. Feland Thurmond, of Stanford, bought of Winfield & Wm. Scott their residence and grounds corner 5th and Broadway for $2,000. Possession given Oct. 1st.

—Nichols & Durham, furniture dealers and undertakers, made an assignment Tuesday for the benefit of creditors. Liabilities from $1,200 to $1,500; assets about the same.

—The Lebanon and Junction City clubs played at the latter place yesterday. The Junction boys won by a score of 29 to 5. Hiner and Harper of the Danvilles played with the Junction City club.

—Mr. H. T. Noel went to Shelbyville Tuesday to attend a meeting of Holston cattle men, called for the purpose of arranging for annual sales and otherwise advancing the interest of this class of stock.

—Mr. Robert Hann, of this place, who raises some very remarkable vegetables, tried this year to show up some "yard long" beans. When done growing they were rather lengthy, but still lacked a little of the full yard.

—F. W. Handman is now engaged in the manufacture of Welner-wurst in addition to ginger ale, pop &c. He also manufactures a superior article of bricks, bottles, lager beer for family use, and sells it by the drink and is a handy and enterprising man generally.

—S. F. Maguire and W. R. Dawson, heretofore partners in the saddle and harness business, have dissolved. W. H. Hicks has moved his steam laundry across the street to a part of the property recently occupied by Geo. Lawrence. Miss Mamie Carrigan is visiting the family of Mr. Jno. Speonamore in this county. Mr. Charles Hagendorf, for some time past the popular clerk in Gilcher's confectionary, has gone to Chicago to live and has been succeeded by Mr. Fred Miller, of Louisville.

—Mr. F. T. Fox, of this vicinity, sold to a Lexington party on Wednesday his fine colt, Grover Cleveland, for $1,200. Grover won the 31 heat in the 227 class and is regarded as a very promising colt. Mr. Willson Dunn, of this place is also elated over the performance of his black 3-year-old which won in the trot of the 238 class at Lexington Wednesday. Wakefield & Hudson sold Wednesday to Gentry Bros. a good Southern horse for $100. Same firm bought from a Garrard county party a 3 year old, 15 h, 1½ in, at $125.

—Although rather early in the estimation of some, there is already considerable discussion among Boyle county people as to the next contest for circuit judge in this district. While Messrs. Alcorn and Sausley have announced their candidacy, it is understood that Judge Owsley may again become a candidate and that Hon. J. S. Van Winkle, of Danville may enter the list. As the candidates in the other judicial districts have made their announcements would it not be as well for those in the 5th to do the same?

—The kind expressions of the editor of the INTERIOR JOURNAL in the issue of the 25th inst., concerning Commonwealth's Attorney R. C. Warren were very gratefully received by the many friends of that gentleman in Boyle county. They endorse them all and think the subject of them well deserves the endorsement of a re-election. Honest, capable and incorruptible he is thoroughly devoted to his duty, while his high bred courtesy and gentleness of disposition make him a general favorite with his brethren of the bar. Mr. Warren is a native of Boyle and was educated here, and although for a number of years a citizen of Lincoln our people have watched his honorable career with pride and have never ceased to regard him as one of their own.

In thirty five years the construction of ocean cables has progressed so that now six cables span the Atlantic, more than 20 connect England and the Continent, and 60,000 miles of wire run along the ocean bed in other parts of the world.

Very Remarkable Discovery.

Mr. Geo. V. Willing, of Manchester, Michigan, writes: "My wife has been almost helpless for five years, so helpless that she could not turn over in bed alone. She used to loathe Electric Bitters and so much improved that she is now able to do her own work." Electric Bitters will do all that is claimed for them. Hundreds of testimonials attest their great curative powers. Only 50 cents a bottle at Penny & McAllister's.

Excitement in Texas.

Great excitement has been caused in the vicinity of Paris, Texas, by the remarkable discovery of Mr. J. E. Corley, who was helpless he could not turn over in bed; he was dying of consumption. A trial bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery was sent him. Finding relief, he bought a large bottle and a box of Dr. King's New Life Pills, and by the time he had taken two boxes of Pills and two bottles of the Discovery, he was well and had gained in weight pounds. Trial bottles of this great discovery for Consumption free at Penny & McAllister's.

MT. VERNON DEPARTMENT.

Managed by Jno. B. Fish.

—A cold wave reached here yesterday, which makes a thick coat feel comfortable.

—It is understood that quite a crowd will attend the Sunday School picnic at Mt. Guthrie.

—F. L. Thompson, W. H. Albright and Frank Cheenut have all had no addition to their families in the last few days. In each case it is a girl.

—A protracted meeting has been in progress at Buckeye church for several days, conducted by Elder Joseph Hilt. To date there have been about 7 additions.

—James Spivy shot a Mr. Idol at Livingston last Sunday. The wound is not serious. The shot entered under the left arm. Spivy is in jail awaiting an examining trial.

—Mrs. Eugene Nicholson died Monday last after a lingering illness of several months. Her husband and four little children have the sympathy of the entire community.

—I will go to the cities on the first of September to buy my fall stock of goods and desire all persons whose accounts are due to pay me on or before that time. I must have the money. F. L. Thompson, 2t.

—Miss Zola Williams and her brother, John M. Williams, started to Mitchell last night, where they will attend College for the next ten months. Mr. W. G. Adams, of Newport, is visiting relatives in this county. J. K. McClary is spending a few days at Dripping Springs. Jack Adams, Jr., and wife are at Rock Castle Springs.

To enter West Point the candidate must be between seventeen and twenty-two, five feet in height, sound in body and able to pass an examination such as is usually required for admission to college. He must be nominated by the Congressman from his district, each Congressional district making one nomination every four years, or one-fourth the districts every year, the theory being that each district is to have one representative in the Academy. If a district sends one not qualified, that is its loss. Each student is paid $540 per year during his four years of study, and $1,400 a year after he is graduated.

Beer is more dangerous than whisky. That is the verdict of the Scientific American, which sets forth that the use of beer is found to produce a degeneration of all the organs; profound and deceptive fatty deposits, diminished circulation, conditions of congestion and perversion of functional activities, local inflammation of both the liver and kidneys, are constantly present. A slight injury, a severe cold, or a shock to the body or mind, will commonly provoke acute disease ending fatally in a beer drinker.

The proposition that because a man is an officeholder he has no right to take part in political management is ridiculous. The first duty and obligation of an officer, of course, is to discharge the functions of his office honestly and efficiently. Having done this, we should like to know why he has no right to participate in any sort of political management. —[N. Y. Sun.]

A Georgia man in climbing a fence, got caught and hung for four days with his head down and his heels up before being discovered and relieved. It is believed he will die, as no Georgia man has ever lived three days without a drink of whisky. The limit in Kentucky is two days. —[Buena Vista (Col.) Democrat.]

If New York wants a $1,000,000 monument to Grant, and is able to pay for it, it is nobody's business; only the New Yorkers need not ask for outside subscriptions. Those are all needed for the National Monument, which, of course, will be at Washington, where it belongs. —[Boston Courier.]

Ten thousand Chinese were drowned near Canton, China, during the great rain storms.

TESTIMONIALS:

[From J. J. White, Professor of Greek]

WASHINGTON & LEE UNIVERSITY.

LEXINGTON, Va., July 15, 1882.

Mr. Alex. S. Paxton graduated at this institution in 1861. Has been engaged in teaching since the war, and being capable and conscientious, has been very successful in his profession.

[From James A. Walker, recently Lieut.-Governor of Virginia.]

NEWBERRY, Va., June 20, 1872.

It affords me pleasure to bear testimony to the qualifications and efficiency of Mr. Alex. S. Paxton as a teacher. His discipline is kind, but firm and good.

[From the Rev. J. Rice Bowman, D. D.]

HARRISONBURG, Va., July 4, 1882.

I take pleasure in testifying to Mr. Alex. S. Paxton's high literary attainments, his zeal in his profession, his facility in imparting instruction and his conscientious regard for the moral as well as the intellectual development of the youth committed to his care.

MANASSASVILLE, TENN., April 1, 1879.

Prof. Alex. S. Paxton taught in Dollar Male & Female Academy. His general deportment was that of a refined, Christian gentleman. In the school room he proved himself a ripe scholar, a thorough and efficient instructor and a good disciplinarian.

Men Think

they know all about Mustang Liniment. Few do. Not to know is not to have.

W. P. WALTON.

THE Owensboro Messenger thinks it an easy matter to predict that Gen. Simon Bolivar Buckner will be the democratic nominee for governor of Kentucky in 1887, and advises Jim McKee to keep out of the fight for "a singular fatality seems to overtake all occupants of the gubernatorial chair. Whatever their fair promise when inaugurated, they fall into the meshes of the Frankfort mutual admiration society and then into the indolent, listless way of that sleepy old town, and run along in the old ruts of their predecessors, making no effort to improve the old methods of government, and rather letting the office and the political baronage who hang around it run them instead of running the office. When Mr. Knott became Governor we had high hopes of a change, but he having fallen from the way side, too, we look upon the office and its surroundings with superstitious fear; hence our advice to McKee, and every other young man with a promising future, to steer clear of it. Let the old fellows like Buckner and Cerro Gordo Williams and Thos. L. Jones fight over it. The one that gets it will be permanently disposed of."

AN Ohio office-holder under Grant, Hays, Garfield and Arthur, Capt. P. H. Dowling, by name, now postmaster at Toledo, and who has always been a leading and active member of the organization in his State, has announced his abandonment of the republican party, giving as his reason that the Ohio republicans, in their platform, endeavored to revive the sectional issue and raise the cry that "the rebels have taken charge of the administration of the government," which he regards as an unpatriotic and unjustifiable attempt to keep alive sectional animosities at the moment they have been finally laid at rest in the tomb of Gen. Grant, and while the whole people are extolling the last words of the Union Soldier in favor of peace and good will all over the country. This begins to look somewhat like a fulfillment of Garfield's words that the men who attempt to keep alive sectional issues will find themselves without following and without a party.

THE September number of the Southern Bivouac, published in Louisville by B. F. Avery & Sons, has reached us and a splendid number it is. The publication is by far the most meritorious of the kind and its get up the best of any magazine in the South, or North either for that matter. Among the interesting features of the current number is an article entitled "Antebellum Charleston" by Paul Hamilton Hayne; "Bragg's Invasion of Kentucky" by C. C. Gilbert; a continuation of "Hood's Tennessee Campaign" by D. W. Sanders and the "Capture of Gen. Stoughton" by Judge A. E. Richards, of the Kentucky Superior Court. The price of the magazine is only $2 per year, thereby placing it in the reach of every soldier who fought in the Lost Cause.

"Whoso sheddeth man's blood, by man shall his blood be shed," is the scriptural command for punishment for murder and any attempt to substitute another kind invariably ends in a return to it. A number of States have tried to abolish the death penalty, but the experiment results in failure. Seventeen years ago Minnesota passed a law substituting life imprisonment for hanging, but the gallows has just been re-erected. Michigan tried the same experiment, and not long since a bill was passed by the lower House of the Legislature re-negotiating the hanging policy, although it failed of adoption in the Senate. Maine did not hang for six years, and then went back to capital punishment.

A LEADING republican and one of the best men in Virginia, Gen. Williams C. Wickham, has announced his intention to support Gen. Fitzhugh Lee for governor, and many other republicans are in open revolt against Mahone. Gen. Wickham was a gallant soldier in the Lost Cause and although elected to the Senate of the Congress of the Confederate States, refused to leave his command and serve. After the war he became a republican, but has never held an office under the Federal government.

THE proposed million-dollar monument for Gen. Grant, to be raised by popular subscription is not received with much enthusiasm by the masses. Less than $50,000 have been subscribed and this is not likely to be materially increased as the excitement attending the death and burial wears off. In the first stages of grief people are always apt to be more liberal than after they have wiped away their tears and found other gods to worship.

THE Louisville Times declares unequivocally for a sovereignty convention to revise the constitution. That is the only way it will ever be done, since the framers of the last document so effectively succeeded in making their work perpetual, if the manner they prescribed for changing it is followed.

THE Lexington ladies finally concluded to set up Hart's "Woman Triumphant" in the Court-House and that model of female loveliness is proving a better card than the fair which is in progress. The Transcript thinks it worthy of note that nobody makes indecent remarks about it.

OUR obliging Congressman, Gov. James B. McCreary, places us under obligations for valuable public documents. This office has not been the recipient of such favors from its representative in Congress for several years.

TO THE protest of Senator Blackburn against the removal of Capt. Murphy as Superintendent of the Frankfort public building have been added those of Col. Billy Breckinridge, Judge Geo. W. Craddock and Col. J. S. Soddard Johnson. We learn from the Louisville Times. What they can see in this miserable old coon to admire or what is the governing cause of their action is past finding out, though surely there is a cat in the meal tub, as the same paper suggests. We are glad to know, however, that our strictures on the most offensive and disgusting of partisans were filed against Murphy and that they had more weight than all the protests of the honorable gentlemen named. Murphy has gone, like all other rascals should be made to do.

BOSLEY, of the Winchester Sun, boasts that the editors of four of the leading journals of Kentucky, were born and raised near the Lincoln and Boyle line within the circumference of two miles. Besides himself there is Feland of the Anderson News, Metcalf, of the Jessamine Journal and Lewis, of the Somerset Republican. What's the matter with the Hanging Fork soil and water that it produces such great men? There must be a Pterian spring hid among the hills.

JUDGE DURHAM, first controller, has set down with a dull thud upon another leak in the Treasury. The Court of Alabama Claims has been costing the government some $70,000 per annum to do nothing, without warrant of law, and he has decided to stop all future payment of claims drawn by it. The Judge is fast earning the sobriquet of "Watch Dog of the Treasury."

THE Philadelphia Times thinks that a majority of nearly seventy thousand in Kentucky does not indicate that the Democrats of that State are very seriously disgruntled because every alternate man has not been provided with a fat office.

WITH a population of about three millions, Ohio had only 28,720 marriages last year, but come to think of it, Cincinnati is in Ohio and there is no occasion for marrying there.

NOTES OF CURRENT EVENTS.

—Judge Durham is enjoying a brief rest at Deer Park, Md.

—The anti-Mahone colored men of Virginia have issued a call for a State Convention.

—Roger Riggs got two years at Nicholasville for shooting John Riggs, his rival in love.

—President Smith, of the L. & N., has subscribed $25,000 to the American Exposition Company at New Orleans.

—A. M. Barnes, a wholesale druggist and one of the curators of Kentucky University, died in Lexington Tuesday.

—Richard Ahrens put his tongue on an electric wire at New Orleans yesterday and received a shock which killed him.

—Dr. Larocque, late Medical Health Officer of Montreal, says cabbage are peculiarly liable to absorb and convey microbes.

—Fred Berkeley shot a young lady at Salem, Ind., because she refused to keep company with him; then shot three men and finally killed himself.

—A terrible storm raged at Charleston, S. C., Tuesday, unroofing hundreds of houses and producing an awful destruction of property generally.

—Ex-Gov. Reuben Fenton, of New York, died suddenly while at his desk in the First National Bank of Jamestown, of which he was president.

—Frank Green, who shot an inoffensive bootblack at High Bridge Camp meeting, was fined $100 and sent to jail for six months, at Nicholasville.

—A killing frost fell in the Northwest Sunday night, extending Southward to the Northern part of Minnesota. The temperature went down to 27°.

—Joel T. Hart's first effort at sculpture is found in his initials engraved on a moss covered stone fence near Paris. The stone will be removed as a memento.

—Bell, the Supervising Architect of the Treasury, has just been caught squandering $18,000 on the Kansas City postoffice, in disregard to the law, and wants to resign.

—The Republican State Committee of New York has called the State Convention for September 22, at Saratoga, two days in advance of the Democratic Convention, to be held at the same place.

—John H. Burton, charged with selling manufactured tobacco without license and B. W. Dalton, charged with selling whiskey from a bonded warehouse, both from Pulaski have been lodged in jail at Louisville.

—Judge Wm. Lindsay is not a candidate for the United States Senate, nor will he be. He is a warm personal friend of Senator Beck's and would not oppose him under any conditions. —[Louisville Commercial.

—The striking employees of the Cincinnati Southern railway, at Meridian; are still masters of the situation. They allow only mail trains to pass. Failure to receive their pay for two months caused the strike.

—Two years ago Judge Hoadly defeated Mr. Forsaker quite easily in Ohio. He remained from the State nursing a malignant case of malaria in a Philadelphia hotel. Just at the close of the campaign he returned to Ohio and made about three speeches. As Forsaker is actively stumping now and is doing himself no good, it might be well for Brother Hoadly to adopt the hinc inde policy again.

—R. A. Downing, Nicholasville, has been appointed gauger. This is the first democratic appointment made in the district by the Secretary of the Treasury. Col. Bronson says he has several resignations, and changes will be made gradually. He advises applicants to be patient. It is unnecessary for them to press the Collector as he is powerless in the matter. It is all with the Secretary of the Treasury. —[Herald.

GEO. O. BARNES.

A Chapter on Monkeys, Dogs and Parrots for the Children.

"Praise the Lord. God is Love and Nothing Else."

"PROSPECT POINT," LANDOUR, N. INDIA, July 18th, 1885.

DEAR INTERIOR:—I see you have tampered with my heading, and substituted "Always Praising the LORD." Now please don't do that. It is like a "wet blanket" on my letter. I don't want attention directed to the fact that I am doing anything. But it is important, that men should be recalled to the fact that there is a "LORD" to be praised. If you have no objections, I would be glad if you give the heading I always use now, in full, every time, but, at least restore the old intact. Suffer this wee lecture, good Walton; I haven't given you one for some time.

I marvel that no one has put in any book (that I have seen, at least) the literal marvel that greets our eyes, when we take what little strolls the continuous showers and down pours permit. It is a wonderful transformation. I have written, before, of the brown and golden moss that envelopes the trunks and limbs of the oaks and rhododendrons here and elsewhere on the Himalayas. Now the gold and brown are flecked with delicate greens, and in places quite covered. These mosses are simply seed-beds of ferns. How the innumerable spores of the lovely, graceful plants ever got there, I cannot divide. But the dormant seeds that lie all the dry season invisible, at the touch of the continuous moisture of "the rains" spring into exquisite life, and line trunk and bough with their pendant foliage. Imagine if you can (but you can't) a noble tree—beautiful before in its own garment of pale green, now, with trunk and every branching limb, fringed with delicate ferns of kinds, from root to "top of the uppermost bough." In its way the most exquisite sight, we have yet seen in Himalayan dora.

Turning "from grave to gay," may I be pardoned for sketching, for the boys and girls at home, our latest acquisition in the shape of a monkey? "Jacko"—we call her that because it was the name the rough soldier, who gave her to Georgia, brought with her. We concluded not to change it if it did do gentle violence to the proprieties of gender. "Jacko" is the best of young monkeys—having her likes and dislikes, as all monkeys do, but, in the main, most amiable, and we think less treacherous than her kind. She bit the "women folks" sharply at first. Female monkeys dislike women and children. But this soon passed off, under a little firm and patient treatment, even George, at last, mastering courage to take hold of "Jacko" without drenching (they know as well when you are the least afraid of them, and take every advantage of it, as a horse a timid rider) she became amiable to the entire "Troupe," so that we do as we like with her without the least fear. She is one of the smaller species, such as are favorites with organ grinders, and very frolicsome and nimble. She seems to delight when we are looking at her to show her acrobatic powers, and will execute some "flying trapeze" movements in, to us, the most reckless of ways. Only she never misses her hold nor gets a fall. We keep her tied to the wooden lattice; that our predecessor built across the end of the verandah, whose diamond framework is just the thing for a monkey to clutch hold of handily. Up in the corner, next to the roof, is the box where Jacko sleeps. Her light chain is about 7 feet long, giving her full play. Will contrived a spring board with one end fastened to the cross piece of one of the verandah partitions, which greatly delights her. She can make prodigious springs from it to the lattice, and a favorite, perilous perch on the capstone of one of the verandah pillars—a nice break-neck jump, but her special delight.

A few days ago, Young of the "Suffolks" who gave us "Jacko" brought another of the same breed, only this time a baby of a fortnight, or three weeks old. We gave the little thing to Jacko to see what she would do. And then began an exhibition that we never tire of witnessing. All the mother instinct of our pet awoke at a bound. She embraced the little fondling tenderly—fairly kissing it with joy, and at once began to perform all the duties of a mother. As for the baby, it accepted its foster mama as if its real one, and the in te cordial was complete. The orphan has a villainous temper, but Jacko's patience seems inexhaustible. We have to part them forcibly when Jack pines for exercise. Then she makes up for lost time—concentrating in half an hour the half days monkeyings—returning ever with renewed tenderness and zest to her self-imposed maternal duties. Our menagerie consists of two monkeys, a parrot, a canary, and last a beautiful doggy—still a present from our soldier friend of the "Suffolks."

We call him "Harry Young" for the giver's sake. Bro. Woodside gave the girls two parrots, not full fledged, when he went down the hill. These grew apace, but one of the little creatures, a few days ago, ventured out of an open door and was attacked by a villainous pirate of a crow. Before we could respond to its screams for help, the marauder had killed it and when we appeared flew away with its limp and lifeless body. George was in a dreadful frame of mind for a while, but got over it after a while. There are so many things to pet in India, that they soon accumulate in one's household. The bearer brought us a dove, which we sent away again. Then he caught a rat and brought it with a string around its neck, evidently supposing I could utilize it among my collection of animal odds and ends. But I was obliged to un-deceive him and the poor rodent was summarily executed. The puppy, a beautiful brown and white spaniel, is a general favorite. Mama has taken him under her wing. It has been her manifest destiny to rear puppies ever since she had brothers with a penchant for dogs, and afterwards a husband ditto. So "Young 'Arry"—as we paraphrase "Harry Young"—(his name being that of the giver Young of the "Suffolks" with a cockney transportation) has fallen to his oldest mistress, who makes him up a bed every night beside her own, in an old trunk tray, and resignedly "accepts the situation" though detesting pups "in general." "Young 'Arry" having been sound asleep all the evening, on the skirt of his mistress' dress, is wide awake and ready for a romp by the time we are getting sleepy. So after a general rip at everybody's ankles and a tug at the ladies' dresses, he is led off to his bedroom. But go into his box? Not if he knows himself! First, a preliminary hunt all around the room—noising in corners, where we are in terror lest a scorpion should sting him at any time. Then he comes with a bound and a short bark back to the box where he knows he has to go at last, but where he resolves only to go under protest. He turns his head cunningly on one side, after the manner of pups, inspects the spread prepared for him and then bounds away for another hunt around the room. After a while he is captured in et armis and thrust ignominiously into the receptacle where he has declined to go willingly. Then a protracted conflict between maternal authority and puppy will. At last discipline conquers and with a long drawn sigh and short yelp of protest and discontent "Arry" agrees to subside, until the morning light arouses him—rather earlier than we at all fancy.

There boys! You will appreciate this part of my letter I know. I have been neglecting you of late with my theological disquisitions, and you deserve a little run with the monkeys and the pup. I wish you could see them. I know you would laugh prodigiously. It is poor work trying to put a monkey on paper. You can't do it. But a little description is better than nothing, isn't it? Ever in Jesus, GEO. O. BARNES.

DRIPPING SPRINGS.

Our crowd has thinned down to a very few persons and the most of those that are here now leave to-morrow. Several parties have written that they are coming in September and I would be glad if they would come as early in the month as possible, so as to get their stay out by the 15th or 20th of the month as I want to close up for the winter between those dates. Our house has been full for ten weeks and not only has the season been profitable far beyond my most sanguine expectations, but has been pleasant as well. I expect a big "boom" next season, as all who have been here this season say they are coming back next year, and bring their sisters, cousins and aunts with them. I now have another large, two story building almost completed, which entirely covers the croquet yard, and in a few days will commence several other buildings, including a bowling alley nearly one hundred feet long, billiard and dancing hall, cottages &c. Parties who come here next season will find a greater change and improvement in the place than they found this season. On Saturday, Sept. 12th, I will give a regular banquet to which every "boarder" who has been here this season is hereby invited. This is a private affair, is simply a compliment to our boarders, and I will receive no pay for their dinners. You can bring feed for your horses, and look after them yourselves, or I will have them taken care of and fed for 50 cents each. Rept. D. G. SLAUGHTER.

P. S. Next season I will open the hotel on the 1st day of May for the benefit of invalids and during that month will charge only a very small price for board.

It may not be known generally that many cases on the docket of the Court of Appeals are never intended for trial. This is shown by the fact that nothing further is done in some of these cases than to file the appeal. Their purpose is merely to secure delay in complying with the judgment of the lower court. In such cases the greater the delay in the work of the court the greater is the satisfaction of the appellant. There are other cases, however, in which delays are very injurious to the interests of the State. Sometimes large estates are involved, and at other times large business interests, all of which suffer through being in a state of suspense, while the courts are waiting to give them attention. For this reason it is important that the business of the courts should be expedited as much as possible. —[Louisville Commercial.

—The handsome residence of Alfred Orfutt, Sr., two miles south of Georgetown, was totally destroyed by fire. No insurance.

—In the Superior Court of Greenfield, Mass. Brim, charged with incest, pleaded guilty in the case of both daughters, and was sentenced to twelve years in the State Prison.

—The tenth annual convention of the Mutual Life Benefit Association of America is being held at Galesburg, Ill. It now has 1,655,975 members, and $3,785,163 3/4 of insurance.

—Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes will celebrate his seventy-sixth birthday next Saturday, but he will be by far the youngest of the many old boys who will assemble to project the centuries at that celebration.

—Theodore Frelinghuysen, son of the late Secretary of State, was married Wednesday night, at Newport, R. I., to Miss Alice Costa, daughter of James Costa, the thread manufacturer of Paisley, Scotland.

—Two little Alabama boys saw their father butcher a pig and the next day they tried the process on a younger brother. They cut its throat and hung it up by the heels as the pig had hung, and were proceeding to disembowel it when the mother discovered the horrible tragedy.

THE College Building is being painted and renovated inside and out preparatory to its occupancy by the new principal, Mr. A. S. Paxton, of Virginia. Mr. T. J. Bosley is the artist in charge.

DUE to his misfortune and inability to work because of white swelling in his arm, Mr. M. V. Stephens is forced to sell a fine $250 watch, which he will do at $1 per chance, September 20. There will be 250 chances.

THE woman that Prof. Rigney is alleged to have eloped with is the one he has been passing off as his sister and who has caused much trouble between him and his wife, who was always jealous of her. We hope the Prof. will be able to refute the charges made by his wife against him.

THOSE of our correspondents who wait about three weeks to send their letters and then mail them on Thursdays after trying to make up in length what they have lost in time, are just as sure to have them cut down as rolling off a log. We haven't the space to spare after 2 or 3 o'clock Mondays and Thursdays.

ANOTHER Richmond shies his cantor in the ring for jailer, Mr. W. L. Dawson, a good democrat, who has never scratched a ticket, and a clever and deserving gentleman. He puts up no special claims but being a poor man with a growing family of girls, present and prospective, he wants the office for its emolument, and we are sure he will make a good officer, if elected.

A SUMMER of the best singers from each of the churches met at the Baptist church Wednesday night for practice. Miss Belle Tyree, who is also a fine vocalist, presided at the organ, while Mr. J. F. Waters added to the sweet melody with his cornet. Miss Daisy Barnside sang as a solo "Sowing the Seed in the Daylight" as sweetly as we ever heard it. These meetings are very improving and we are glad to know that they will be held every Wednesday night.

OUR dear friends of the Mammoth Cave party have testified in a most substantial manner their appreciation of our humble efforts to add to their happiness. That we were instrumental in doing so and the knowledge that we have made closer friends of each of the 25 ladies and gentlemen who went with us, would repay a hundred fold, even if the trip had not given us more pleasure than anybody. The whole thing is a bright spot in our life and "long, long will our heart with sweet memory be filled" of the many incidents, not one of which occurred to mar the general enjoyment.

EXTRAORDINARY.—Mr. E. A. Dawson, living near town, had an experience in the poultry line this year, which is remarkable. Her son, W. L. Dawson, gave a JOURNAL reporter the facts as follows: Mrs. D. set eight double eggs laid by one hen, under the same hen and in due time 16 well formed and healthy chickens hatched from them. They were placed with other chickens in the poultry yard and are all alive and doing well. Mrs. D. says that if the double egg has a ridge around it at the division between the yellows, the chickens will be double and live only a few hours, but if smooth, the chickens will be distinct and well-formed.

RELIGIOUS.

—No service in the Presbyterian church next Sabbath. Rev. A. S. Moffatt will preach in Peeryville.

—The Salvation Army is threatened with prosecution in Boston for profanity because it gives "three cheers for Jesus."

—There are 1,319 Baptist churches in Kentucky with a total membership of 120,000. The colored Baptists number 60,000.

—Miss Lizzie Davison received the gold ring over Miss Lillie Daddler for collecting the greatest amount for the new church at Rowland.

—The Presbyterian church building at Jackson, Breathitt county, will soon be ready for occupancy, and arrangements are being made for regular services in it.

—Mrs. Harris, of "Pink Cottage," has been holding Bible Readings here for the last few days. She also wants to annoint all persons for the healing of the body. [Lexington Herald.]

—The South Cumberland Association will meet at Pleasant Point, near Klipspring, the 21 and 31 of September. The Union S. S. Convention will be held at the same place on the 1st.

—The average Sunday plate collections of Rev. Newman Hall's church, in Westminster Bridge Road, London, is $175, and of Rev. C. H. Spurgeon's congregation in the great Tabernacle, $345.

—It has been decided to rebuild the Roman Catholic Cathedral at Charleston, S. C., which was burned in the great fire of 1861, and at that time considered the finest ecclesiastical building in the south.

—Rev. J. M. Bruce writes: Tate's Creek Association met with Silver Creek church Tuesday. Speed Smith, Moderator, T. T. Covington, Richmond, clerk. Large congregations and great increase in missionary since last year. H. T. Daniels preached the introductory sermon.

—Rev. F. S. Pollitt closed the meeting at Bright's Tuesday night, which has been conducted by himself and Rev. H. C. Morrison for several weeks. Forty-five persons confessed, 30 of whom joined the Methodist church. Mr. Morrison is now preaching at Wilmore, Jessamine county.

—Rev. S. S. Idelman, minister of the Methodist Episcopal church at Old Spring Run, W. Va., committed suicide by jumping from a window. We suppose he preferred that death to the slow one by starvation, for that section pays its preachers only in promises and small ones at that.

—Sam Jones says: I never sold whiskey, and I never will as long as a man can make a living and as long as any place is unlocked so that I can steal. Every man to his taste. I would rather steal than to sell whiskey, but I am not saying every man who sells whiskey would steal. A man can do as he chooses.

—A Missionary and Sunday School Convention will be held at the Baptist church here next Sunday. There will be services morning, afternoon and night. Crab Orchard, Logan's Creek, Preacher's Hill and Tyrone members especially invited. Revs. Harvey, Daniel, Green, Dawson and other ministers will be present. An interesting meeting is anticipated and all who come will receive a hearty welcome.

—A projected meeting of extraordinary interest has been in progress at the Tate's Creek Christian church in this county since Friday week, conducted by Elder Joseph Billon, of Stanford, assisted by the pastor, Elder M. H. Elliott. There have been up to and including Monday night seventy additions, forty-nine being conversions. The house is crowded every night and hardly half the people can get in. Twenty-eight were baptized on Monday evening, between six hundred and seven hundred persons witnessing the solemn ceremony. [Lexington Herald.] Since the above was put in type we have received the following from Eld. Ballou: Bro. Milton Elliott and I closed a 12 days' meeting yesterday at Tate's Creek church in Madison county, having added 85 persons to the church. Nearly all were men and women. I have preached forty discourses in two meetings in this month, resulting in 110 additions to the churches.

LAND, STOCK AND CROP.

WANTED.—2,000 bushels of seed oats. Bright & Curran.

—A few nice Berkshire, boar sows for sale. J. Bright, Stanford.

—M. Speed Peyton sold the 26 old sheep advertised in this paper to W. F. Ramsey at $2 per head.

—A train of 20 cars, bearing 438,000 pounds of wool, has left Portland, Oregon, for Philadelphia.

—A big lot of mules sold at Cynthiana Monday. Yearlings at $35 to $50 and 2-year-olds $55 to $70.

—The celery crop in the vicinity of Kalamazoo, has been damaged to the amount of $100,000 by severe rains.

—While in Kentucky, Revivalist Sam Jones bought a saddle and harness horse from a Henry county man for $175.

—T. B. Cooper, of Fayette, sold his crop of tobacco for $11.50 per cwt., all round. His crop of 20 acres made him $3,000.

—Messrs. C. E. Hoge and C. R. Mason have bought the Lorist Hill farm, 44 miles from Frankfort, containing 378 acres at $65.

—Smith & Anderson, Danville, Ky., have a superior article of Fultz seed wheat for sale. Only one year removed from the Northern seed.

—WANTED.—One hundred mules to feed, upon reasonable terms; have plenty of corn and oats to fatten them. Address John W. Miller, Lancaster, Ky.

—W. S. Jones, of Bourbon, sold to George Becker a lot of 1,466 lb. cattle at $1 and William Collins sold to same 40 of about the same weight at $5 to $1.

—Owing to low bidding, Messrs. Riffe & Nunneley withdrew their herd of short horns from their sale of Tuesday, after disposing of six or seven at $36 to $40.

—The Louisville cattle market is unchanged and prices run from 14 to $1 Good, fat hogs are in demand and bring 14 to 15; common to fair $14 to $15; sheep are firm at 1 to 3 and lambs steady at 2 to 4 cents.

—Plow for wheat early, and the chances for a good crop are much better than if the plowing be done just before sowing. This is because wheat succeeds better on land that has settled well by the time the roots strike out.

—WINCHESTER COURT.—About 300 head of cattle of all grades, 3 year-old selling well at $3.61 to $4 per hundred; 2 year-old at $18 to $20; calves $8 to $15; work oxen $70 per yoke; good horses $105 to $130; plugs $36 to $65; mules $100 to $125.

—Last September Mr. A. B. Bowling sold a farmer in this county, 50 head of cattle that weighed 1,189 pounds. These cattle were sold a day or two ago to Lehman & Co. for $530 per hundred, and they weighed 1,660 pounds, an increase of 471 pounds or about 1 1/2 pounds per day. [Lexington Gazette.]

—Grass is so short in many parts of the county that the farmers have already commenced feeding their cattle. Mule colts are selling at $10 to $25; stock hogs 4 1/2 cents; aged mules $1.50 to $1.60; T. H. Clay sold to Lehman, of Baltimore, 45 head of cattle, weight 1,586 at $5.25 per cwt. Sam Hayden sold to W. B. Ford 13 extra two-year-old cattle, weight 1,250 lbs., at $1.85 per cwt. [Winchester Star.]

—Wm. Hayden bought of R. F. McElroy five mule colts at $30 per head; C. W. Hayden of James Baver 9 yearling mules at $65; Mattingly & Sloms bought in Lincoln county, of Mrs. Clord, 74 head of fat mules, at $150 to $160 per head; J. C. Phillips, of this county, bought of Mr. Horace Miller, Bourbon county, 34 head yearling mare mules, said to be the best lot in the State, for $3.10. [Lexington Standard.]

—A close estimate of the tobacco harled by the twenty-three factories of Owensboro shows that not less than 12,600,000 pounds are stripped in that place annually.

—The INTERIOR JOURNAL office has issued a neat catalogue of 25 finely pedigreed short-horns for Mr. A. M. Feland, who will ship them to Bowling Green to be sold next Friday by S. H. Hill. Mr. Feland handles none but the best bloods.

—Mandu, daughter of Mortimer, has already won $29,340 this season. Freeland has won 27 of the 53 races in which he has started, and has earned $36,235. Beauregard has an unbroken career of triumphs since the grand circuit began. Miss Woodford has earned to date $99,495.60. She has started 39 times, came in first 30 times, second five times, third twice, unplaced twice.

—There was quite a severe frost on the New Hampshire lowlands Tuesday night.

PUBLIC SALE

—OR—

Sells Brothers' Monster Railroad Shows.
World's Managerial and Great Quadruple Circus.

The best evidence that can be given our readers to show that our amusement-going citizens are keeping pace with the times, and moving with metropolitan strides, is the fact that Stanford has been selected as a stand for the greatest, grandest and biggest show in Christendom, pagandom, or a heathen land; in fact, on Wednesday, September 2nd, the show referred to is the one whose title heads these lines, and one whose reputation is so firmly established as to be known in every land under the sun as just what we say it is—the very best.

The Sells show, in point of magnitude and equipment, can not be so described in these columns as to leave a right impression of its immensity and its excellence.

We call the following extract to show what the Burlington Hawkeye of May 22d thinks of it:

THE PERFORMANCE.—Sells Brothers stand high in the estimation of the amusement public, and bear enviable reputation of fulfilling every promise and exhibiting every curiosity advertised; an example worthy of emulation by all circus managers, some of whom do not hesitate to defraud the public by the grossest impostures. During the past few years the Sells Brothers have enlarged their show to magnificent proportions, introducing every point of excellence that a long managerial experience could suggest, until it has come to be recognized by a discriminating public as a standard exhibition meriting a generous patronage.

REFUSED.—The following from an exchange suits the case for a few subscribers to every newspaper in the land. "Every newspaper publisher is cursed with an occasional subscriber whose soul seems to have been the tag end of the material and skimp pattern of that. We are always thankful when such lift themselves from our list. The sooner the better. They generally refuse to take the paper from the office after taking it two or three years without paying a cent for it—a plain steal with an insult added. Or else they move away without saying a word or paying a nickel. Or they sit at once discover that they never ordered it, never wanted it, never received it regularly—not more than half the time—won't pay for it. In either case it is a cowardly creep, such as no honorable man would be guilty of. The proper way to stop a newspaper is to pay up first and then stop it any way you please afterwards. If you are a gentleman and don't owe a cent, walk into the office, look the gentleman in charge full in the eye and tell him you don't wish it or can't afford it. If you are on the hog plan chuck it back into the office and mark it 'refused.'"

BEECHER'S CLOSING WORK.—Rev. Henry Ward Beecher, at the close of his sermon a Sunday or two ago, stated to his congregation:

"I shall not be with you many more of the fast-fleeting years. Steadily for more than fifty years I have been under the influence of the great doctrine of evolution. I propose to make the closing work of my life the application of the truths of evolution to all forms of doctrine. I intend to discuss the questions of the divine nature, human sin, the atonement, from the standpoint of evolution, and in the light that falls from philosophy. I wish I could write it out; I am beyond that. I hope the stenographers will get accurate reports of what I say, though, and after I am through I will revise them in book form. When the work is completed I will be ready to die."

AN ACCOMMODATING JUDGE.—One of the keenest things ever said on the bench is attributed to Judge Walton. While holding a term of the supreme Court at Augusta he sentenced a man to seven years in prison for a grave crime. The respondent's counsel asked for a mitigation of the sentence on the ground that the prisoner's health was very poor. "Your Honor," said he, "I am satisfied that my client can not live out half that term, and I beg you to change the sentence." "Well, under those circumstances," said the Judge, "I will change the sentence. I will make it for life instead of seven years." It is needless to add that the respondent agreed to abide by the original sentence, which the Judge permitted him to elect.—[Lewis' Own (Me) Journal]

THE NEWSPAPER ALWAYS.—"What style of bustle do ladies like best?" "To tell you the truth, sir, the home-made article gives more satisfaction than any other. I mean the newspaper bustle, which can be made in a few moments and does not cost a cent. A great many ladies will wear no other kind, because when the papers are properly wrapped around a piece of bathing twine it will retain its shape, no matter how severely it has been crushed, whereas a close seat in a street car is death to a wire bustle, and that is the reason why ladies when they ride in the cars spread their dresses over the seat and wrap up as much room as they can."

LOUISVILLE, Feb. 5, 1878.—I regard "Famous Tooth Wash" as the safest, best and most elegant dentifrice in use. I am conversant with the formula, and therefore can testify that it contains nothing injurious to the enamel of the teeth, and by virtue of its superior detergent and healing properties, and the pleasant aromatic odor it imparts to the breath, I believe it should be used by all who desire sound gums, white teeth, and a clean sweet mouth. G. R. Seymour, Dentist, No. 67 Chestnut near 3d. Prepared only by Famous Chemical Co., Louisville. For Sale by M. L. Bourn, Stanford.
